DEAR OLD WAKE FOREST

(The Alma Mater)

Dear old Wake Forest!
Thine is a noble name;
Thine is a glorious fame,
Constant and true.
We give thee of our praise,
Adore thine ancient days,
Sing thee our humble lays,
Mother, so dear.

Dear old Wake Forest!
Mystic thy name to cheer;
Be thou our guardian near,
Fore'er and aye.
We bow before thy shrine,
Thy brow with bays entwine,
All honor now be thine,
Mother, today.

THE ADMINISTRATION

The administrative policy of the University is a positive one — to help the student, wherever possible, to get the most out of his stay at Wake Forest, both in his academic training and in his development as a human being. The administrators, willing to listen to new ideas, problems and complaints, attempt to maintain an effective and working communication between the institution and students.

THE CAMPUS

The campus includes about 500 acres of land and 19 buildings. Its magnolia trees, expansive lawns and carefully-planned design make the campus one of the most beautiful in the South.

The buildings are of modified Georgian architecture, constructed of Old Virginia brick and trimmed in granite and limestone. In addition to the University buildings, there are a President's home, ten faculty apartment buildings, 56 student apartments and a trailer camp for married students.

REYNOLDA GARDENS

Reynolda Gardens is one of the most magnificent spots in the area. Each spring thousands come to admire the weeping Japanese cherry trees.

Through the years, the winding paths and rolling lawns of the Gardens are favorite spots for study in the sun, leisurely strolls, and student marriages. An enchanting path leads to the Gardens from the main campus near Winston Hall on the west side.

The Gardens became one of the University's most treasured heritages in 1958 when it was presented to Wake Forest by the Mary Reynolds Babcock Foundation and Charles H. Babcock, "to enhance educational facilities . . . and the cultural service which Wake Forest is now rendering to the community and to the state."

With all her glorious traditions and physical beauty, it is in the final analysis the people of Wake Forest that make her what she is. And in these people, there are two factors which are always foremost — a deep love of Wake Forest and a personal concern for each student.

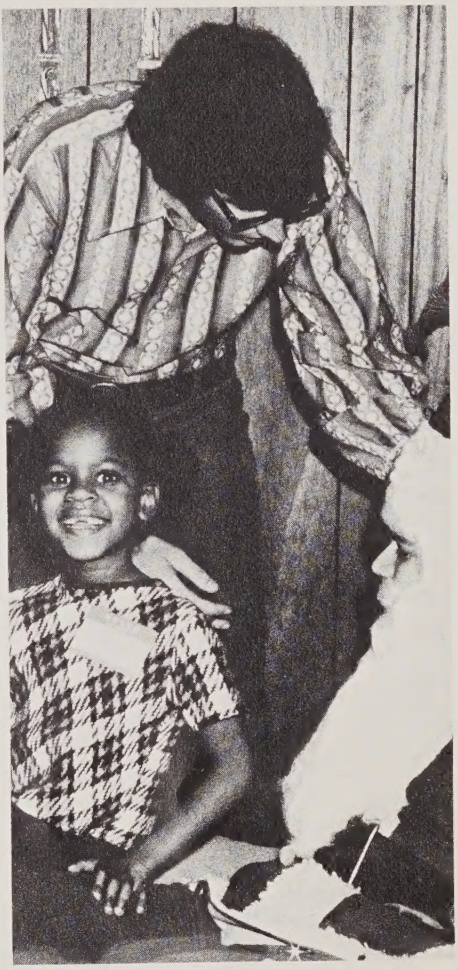
WINSTON-SALEM AREA

Winston-Salem is located in Piedmont North Carolina, the fastest growing area in the Eastern United States. In 1959, and again in 1964, Winston-Salem received the great honor of being named an All American City, reflecting the city's long-time record of progress and continued prosperity.

The origin of the city can be traced to the early 1750's, when the Moravians followed the colonial road from Pennsylvania and established a community in Salem. About 134,000 people live in the combined towns of Winston and Salem.

There have been a healthy student-citizen relationship and an increase of mutual appreciation since the University moved to Winston-Salem in 1956. The governmental and political affairs of the city interest the members of the faculty, student body and administration, who take an active part in both. This interest has caused the people of the city to respond with constant aid to the development and cultural programs of the University.

R.J. Reynolds Industries (parent company of R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company) has over 28,000 people employed in its various businesses. The company now operates the most modern cigarette factory in the world, which can be toured at almost any time. The city also houses the largest bank in the Southeast, the largest producer of seamless hose, and the largest regional airlines in the nation.



The student may find abundant opportunities for cultural and recreational activities. The University sponsors a concert-lecture series; and in addition, students may attend programs of the Civic Music Association, the Little Theater, the Winston-Salem Symphony, the Winston-Salem Singers' Guild, and the Chamber Music Society.

Student golfers may take advantage of two public courses, Winston Lake and Reynolda Park. Other golf facilities for students are Grandview, Wedgewood, Wilshire, Tanglewood Park and Hillcrest Golf Club. The area surrounding the city offers other opportunities for recreation. One may find swimming, golf, horseback riding, fishing, picnicking, and games at Tanglewood, the William and Kate B. Reynolds Memorial Park. Only 47 miles from the campus is the beautiful and scenic Blue Ridge Parkway, which attracts many students during the fall and spring months. Near these ranges are located the Hanging Rock State Park, 30 miles north of the city, and Pilot Mountain Park, 25 miles northwest of Winston-Salem.

One of the finest examples of restored colonial life in the United States is Old Salem, a special attraction in the city. Salem College, a distinguished four-year college for women, is located in Old Salem. Salem Academy, founded in 1772, is the oldest preparatory school for girls in the South. Easter and Christmas services of the Moravian Church are attended by people from all over the nation. Winston-Salem is also the home of Winston-Salem State University, a state school, and the North Carolina School of the Arts.

In addition, Winston-Salem offers many opportunities for community service for students. Many students work in the Experiment in Self-Reliance or one of its agencies. The University led in the foundation of an urban coalition to fight the problems of proverty, and students have pledged their active, working support to the betterment of our community at large. Community work can also be attained through the Urban Affairs Institute and the USRB (see p. 10).

Relaxation and light entertainment are also available in Winston-Salem. Besides several drive-in theatres, there are two downtown theatres and new theatres at the Parkway Plaza, Reynolda Manor, and Thruway shopping centers. The student will find miniature golf courses and bowling alleys close by. The City Recreation Department operates 35 recreation centers and 15 parks, with facilities for all types of activities. Winston-Salem also has a wide variety of fine restaurants.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The Student Government is established and operated under the Constitution of the Student Body; it includes the Student Legislature, Honor Council, and Judicial Board. The 1972-73 president is Mary Lou Cooper, a junior from Wilson; vice-president is Frank Dew, a senior from Lumberton; secretary is Annie Ludlow, a junior from Oakhurst, N.J.; and treasurer is David Huges, a junior from Danville, Ky.

Further work on the problems of a new constitution and student responsibility should play an important part in this year's Student Government.

Participation of all students is invited on numerous committees established by the legislature and overseen by the officers.

STUDENT LEGISLATURE

The Student Legislature underwent a complete change following the 1970 elections and is in its third trial year. The legislators are now chosen by living units rather than on the basis of class standing. (For more information on this change, see the Constitution of the Student Body.) The four class officers, however, are still an integral part of the legislature.

While the president is not a voting member of the legislature, his programs and goals are generally reflected in the actions of the legislature. The legislators introduce bills and motions on the floor according to the wishes of the constituents of their district. Passed legislation is sent to respective committees for appropriate action and it is here that the legislature is turned into reality. Committees such as Curriculum, Athletics, Student Facilities, Community Relations, and University Development have taken on new life in the past year.

The vice-president serves as chairman of the legislature and is liaison between the legislature, the president, and committee chairmen appointed by the president and approved by the legislature. Reports on current issues and legislative actions are carried in the Old Gold and Black; bills presented and passed are also posted in the display case near the Information Desk.

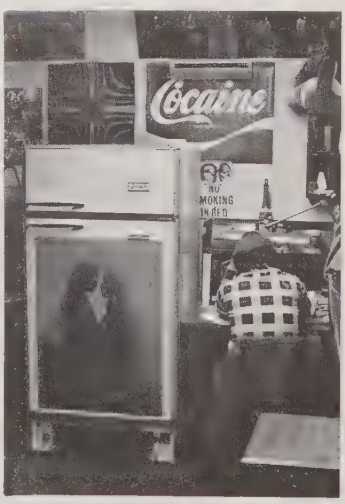
Meetings of the Student Legislature are held every first and third Wednesday nights except during holidays and exams. Special meetings can be called by the chairman. (For further reference see the Constitution.) All members of the student body are invited and welcome to attend all legislature meetings.

Last year in affiliation with the Student Government, two new groups were formed to aid the students and the community. Under the direction of Alexis Anderson, the Urban Services Referral Board (USRB) will arrange for students to go into the community to work with the handicapped and to work in Tutorial Programs, Adult Enrichment, and Children's Enrichment. The other new program which made great headway in getting student discounts with some of the local merchants, is in charge of the SG refrigerator rental, in charge of class ring sales, and in an experimental grocery-order service is the Student Economics Board (SEB) under the chairmanship of Steve Webb. Both organizations are located in the SG complex, 230 Reynolda Hall; both encourage new students to participate in this year's plannings and activities.

MEN'S RESIDENCE COUNCIL

Eight years ago, the seeds of what was to become one of the most dynamic, purposeful organizations of the Wake Forest campus were planted by a handful of dissatisfied independents. Today, the Wake Forest house system embodied in the Men's Residence Council stands ready to offer the independent male student a program of "Total Education."

The "Total Education" concept of the MRC seeks to offer a well-rounded program of athletic, academic, and social activities to each member. This three-headed emphasis is supported by the belief that a college education is more than just classes three times a day for four years and a piece of sheepskin. The MRC seeks to relate each of these areas in producing a totally educated Wake Forest man unique among the mass of today's graduates.



Each of the four residence houses on campus — Davis House, Kitchin House, Poteat House, and Taylor House — plans and executes its own program of seminars, lectures, intramural athletic games, combo parties, and many other events unique to each house. In addition, all of the houses take part in MRC activities such as the annual Red Garter Dance, Fine Arts Week, Spring Golf Classic, Big Four Field Day, and Beach Weekends. The Men's Residence Council is comprised of representatives from all four residence houses along with four elected officers. The council serves as a coordinator for activities among the houses as well as an integrator of house policies and finances. It also serves as the houses' representative in both public and collegiate interaction.

The MRC's house system is looking forward to another great year of growth, fun, fellowship, involvement, and learning. These goals will be met in the challenge of "Total Education" as the Men's Residence Council finds itself an integral part of the ever growing Wake Forest community.

SOCIAL FRATERNITIES

As a freshman, one may be a bit confused at first trying to remember which Greek letters represent each of the ten social fraternities on campus. Gradually, the names and faces will fall into place, and new students will have the opportunity to affiliate with the fraternity of their choice.

With the deferred rush rules, new students have the opportunity of viewing fraternities from afar for one semester; thus they are able to decide objectively which brotherhood best suits their needs and personality. Freshmen may pledge a fraternity second semester only after they have attained the required minimum grade average and have received a bid from a fraternity. Transfer students may participate in rush first semester. Pledging is an important step in one's college career and should be taken only after serious and careful consideration.

Wake Forest's social fraternities not only provide entertainment and parties but also encourage academic excellence and participate in a well-rounded intramural program. A student makes close friendships and finds a place for himself within a brotherhood.

The central governing body of all social fraternities on campus is the Interfraternity Council. Composed of representatives from each brotherhood, it formulates the rules for rushing, pledging and initiation. The IFC sponsors as its main social events of the year Mid-Winters and Greek Week. The president of the IFC for 1972-73 is Gene Pepinsky, a senior from Palsi, Pa.

An Open Letter to All Freshman Men:

You may not realize it now, but sooner or later you will be faced with the question, "Should I join a social fraternity?" Allow me to help you make a decision by offering four basic concepts of fraternity life.

First, the fraternity occupies a dynamic and vital position in the Wake Forest community. Fraternity men are well represented in positions of campus leadership, interscholastic athletics, and academic honors.

Each of us, as college students, recognizes our academic responsibility which cannot be denied. The fraternity offers a medium for academic achievement not often found elsewhere. There exists a strong sense of mutual cooperation for the attainment of scholastic success. During pledgeship, a fraternity man begins to realize that academic achievement is an integral measure of his conscientiousness. He also realizes that certain scholastic standards must be met in order to enter a fraternity and to remain enrolled at Wake Forest.

Thirdly, we must not lose sight of the fact that a fraternity is a social organization. It brings a group of men together for the benefit of all. Fraternity instills a code of conduct and offers experiences which are invaluable to a complete social education. Likewise, a fraternity provides the good fellowship and lasting memories of a meaningful college career.

The last aspect of fraternal life is, to me, the most important: brotherhood. Brotherhood is a rather intangible term, but it rests upon concrete principles. It teaches a man to put the good of the whole before his own desires and closely parallels the Golden Rule. Brotherhood builds moral character and sincerity towards people both inside and outside the fraternity. It is the feeling of satisfaction that is derived from doing something for someone else without expecting a reward. Brotherhood leads to the acquiring of a sense of responsibility and leadership. The fraternity man soon finds himself assuming the responsibility for maintaining spirit and the general well-being of the house. His brothers soon realize his qualities of leadership. Fraternity men have the responsibilities of self-government and management of a corporation whose assets and expenditures total thousands of dollars. They carry this sense of responsibility, management, and leadership throughout their lives. Finally, brotherhood provides the medium for free exchange of ideas and impressions. It forms the tightest bond between individuals. Earnest Howard Crosby offers the best revelation of the deep meaning of brotherhood:

> No one could tell me where my soul might be.
> I searched for God but He eluded me;
> I sought my brother and found all three.

Fraternities have a lot to offer to the young man who is willing to put forth the necessary effort. Each of us has our own inherent needs for fellowship and social relationships. I cannot answer your question of whether or not to become associated with a fraternity. I can only extend to you the invitation to observe the fraternities at Wake Forest in action, talk with the brothers, note the achievements of fraternity men, and finally, make your decision. Let me urge you to make more than a passing inspection. Visit each house and don't hesitate to ask any questions concerning any aspect of fraternity life. It is my sincere hope that each of you will be careful and deliberate in your decision, whatever it may be. I look forward to meeting you and welcome your comments and questions. *

SOCIETIES

The Inter-Society Council co-ordinates the activities and acts as a spokesman and a sounding board for the societies. It is composed of the presidents and one representative from each class in the society. The five women's societies are: Fideles, S.O.P.H.'s, Steps, Strings, and Thymes.

PUBLICATIONS

On the second floor of Reynolda Hall is the heart of the student activities at Wake Forest — Pub Row. At one end of the hall are the student government offices; at the other, the campus radio station; and down the side are the offices of the three student publications: a yearbook, a newspaper, and a literary magazine. This hall provides the eyes, ears and voice of the Wake Forest student body. Its role in the life of the university is a significant one, for it is the breeding ground of student ideas and the headquarters for student work.

The Wake Forest publications are governed by a Publications Board, the objectives of which are to promote interest in journalism and the college literary activities. and to build and raise the standards of the university publications. The membership of the board consists of a faculty board, composed of faculty advisers, and a student board, composed of each publication staff's editor and business manager. All students are invited to participate in publications.

Old Gold and Black

Old Gold and Black, the All-American student newspaper, covers the campus like the magnolias. News of campus activities and items of community, state, and national scope which may affect the University, in addition to feature articles, editorials, columns, and advertising, keep the student up to date with campus affairs. Besides informing the students, Old Gold and Black is the principal means by which alumni and parents can keep in touch with campus life.

John Elliott, a senior from Richmond, Va., is this year's editor.

The Student

The University literary magazine is The Student, an outlet for the creative ability of any student. Included in the magazine are short stories, poems, art, book reviews, and news and photo features.

The magazine, which was founded in 1882, is the oldest University publication. It is published throughout the school year. Manuscripts submitted by students are accepted on the basis of individual merit.

This year's editor is Su Nance, a junior from Fayetteville.

The Howler

Having received an All-American rating a number of times, The Howler, the University yearbook, contains a thorough account of the year's events at Wake Forest. Each year, a new format and fresh ideas are combined to make the book express an important theme currently "in" at the campus and community. The Howler has appeared every year since 1903. All students are encouraged to take part in the planning and production of this year's edition.

Editing this year's Howler is Simon Zachowski, a senior from Beaufort, S.C.

DEBATING

Mr. Tennyson Williams, the director of the Wake Forest Debate Team, stresses that debating is open to any student who is interested in attending the meetings and becoming a contributing member of the debate squad. There are no tryouts or eliminations.

The Wake Forest Debate Union is an outgrowth of the old Euzelian and Philomathesian Literary Societies and as such is one of the oldest and most prestigious student organizations on campus.

Long recognized as a national power, the Wake Forest Debate Team will travel over 30,000 miles and participate in nearly 50 tournaments throughout the country in the coming academic year. Always a strong competitor, last year's debate squads won a number of tournaments and placed in many more, often against outstanding competition. In addition, Wake Forest is the sponsor of two of the country's finest intercollegiate debate tournaments, the novice tournament held in October and the Dixie Classic Varsity tournament usually held in December. Numerous high school forensic activities are also held on campus throughout the year.

The president of the Wake Forest University Debate Team for 1972-1973 is Richard Kendrick, from Middleton, R.I.

WFDD–FM

WFDD-FM, "The Voice of Wake Forest," broadcasts throughout Piedmont North Carolina and Southwest Virginia at 88.5 MHZ FM and can also be heard in the dormitories at 650 KC AM.

The 36,000 watt station has three full-time employees and a large student staff to assist with its operation. As a member of National Educational Radio and National Public Radio Networks, WFDD broadcasts classical music, rock, educational and public affairs, and campus and city events. New students are encouraged to participate in all phases of station operation, including opportunities to announce campus news and produce several of their own shows for the air. Students interested in trying their hand in broadcasting can contact Dr. J.C. Burroughs at WFDD, located on Pub Row, 220 Reynolda Hall

THE COLLEGE UNION

The College Union is responsible for the coordination of campus social, cultural, and recreational activities. Activities sponsored by the College Union include concerts, dances, films, lectures, art exhibits, ski trips, and trips to New York and the Caribbean.

Under the direction of the College Union, most of Reynolda Hall has been converted into a student center during the last four years. Students can now relax in the many lounges and listening rooms or watch color television. In the East Lounge, students have access to bridge tables, pool tables, and an informal lounging area. Other areas in the building include offices and workrooms for campus student organizations, meeting rooms, and a ballroom for dances. A second television room is located near the information desk.

During the past three years the Major Functions Committee has brought many well known groups to the campus including Simon and Garfunkel, The Association, Dionne Warwick, Three Dog Night, The Friends of Distinction, and the Brooklyn Bridge. Last year concerts were presented by Mary Travers, The Byrds, the Fifth Dimension, Livingston Taylor, and Iron Butterfly.

This year's concert series will be started off with Fat City for the Orientation Concert, and several of the other concerts will bring Duke Ellington, David Frye, and Sha Na Na to campus.

Since winning the highest possible recognition in 1969-1970 as the best collegiate film program in the nation, the Film Committee has not faltered in its selection of films. Some of the outstanding films to be shown this year (all films in DeTamble Hall) are: Yellow Submarine, Julius Caesar, Wuthering Heights, The Andromeda Strain, Hamlet, MacBeth, McCabe and Mrs. Miller, Catch 22, The Collector, The Private Life of Sherlock Holmes, Summer of '42; and Sundy Bloody Sunday.

Through his activity fee, each student contributes 10 dollars per year and automatically becomes a member of the College Union; over 150 students actively participate by serving on various committees as officers and elected representatives. Anyone wishing to work with the College Union is welcome.

THE UNIVERSITY THEATRE

The University Theatre offers numerous opportunities to all students. They may participate as actors, directors, costumers, choreographers, make-up artists, carpenters, electricians, and spectators.

In the library, the seventh and eighth levels provide space for two theatres: Studio 7 west, the experimental theatre; and Studio 8 east, the proscenium theatre. During the year, the dramatic program comprises four major plays, reader's theatre, and laboratory theatre. The theatre's activities culminate with the Annual Theatre Awards Banquet, at which outstanding performers are inducted into the National Collegiate Players.

Dr. Harold C. Tedford directs the activities of the University Theatre.

MUSICAL ACTIVITIES

Those students who express a desire to participate in musical activities at Wake Forest find a variety of musical organizations which provide an outlet for individual and group performance in vocal and instrumental fields.

In the instrumental field, the Marching Deacons and the lively majorettes add to the spirit and atmosphere of autumn football games. Under the direction of Dr. Calvin Huber, director of instrumental music, the Concert Band presents various concerts in Wait Chapel and outdoors in the spring. In addition, the Department of Music has a stage band with 15 to 20 members and a Little Symphony.

Throughout the year, students are greeted by the strains of anthems performed by the Chapel Choir during special chapel services and the annual Christmas Vesper Service. The Touring Choir performs throughout North Carolina and other states and joins with the Chapel Choir for a spring concert of special music under the direction of Dr. Thane McDonald.

CHAMBER MUSIC SOCIETY

The University is the home of the Wake Forest Chamber Music Society, composed of students, faculty, and townspeople. Each year the society presents four outstanding recitals. These performances will be presented at Reynolda House, adjoining the campus. All interested persons may obtain season memberships, or if preferred, tickets for each concert are available at the door. For any other information about the individual performances, write Box 7266, Reynolda Station.

THE ARTISTS SERIES

World-renowned performers will visit Wake Forest University this year as the Artists Series, headed by Dr. Charles Allen, continues to bring a wide variety of the finest instrumentalists and vocalists to the campus. Masters in their respective fields will thrill audiences with their music, ranging from classical to light jazz. Students and students' wives are admitted upon presentation of their ID cards, since money allotments for the program come from student activity fees and endowment funds. 1972-1973 season:

October 4, The Cleveland Orchestra October 31 - Lorin Hollander, Pianist

November 16, Thomas Christian, violinist

February 8, Christopher Parkening, Guitarist March 15 - Minnesota Orchestra

RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

The religious program seeks to clarify the Christian style of life and indicate its cohesion with academic excellence. The University Chaplain and other campus ministers representing the major denominations coordinate an interdenominational program which includes the following: pre-school retreat, student-faculty colloquium, an attic coffee house (library), a residential house in the inner city, weekly discussion groups, radio programs, service projects, and special worship services such as the Moravian Love Feast during Advent.

Many of these activities are undertaken jointly with Salem College and Winston-Salem State University because some of the campus ministers have responsibilities at these institutions. All the chaplains seek to provide a personal ministry to students and faculty. There are many local churches which provide worship and service opportunities for students, and information about these churches will be made available to entering students.

There is also a church located on campus. The Wake Forest Baptist Church, nourished in the Baptist tradition, is open in its membership to students, faculty, and townspeople of all denominations. This church has embraced and contributed to the growing ecumenism of the University, and its minister, Dr. Warren Carr, shares in the work of the other campus ministers in hospital visitation and work in the coffee house. Wingate Hall houses the pastor's office (Room 110) as well as the University Chaplain's office (Room 105). Two Lutheran ministers and Catholic priests also participate part-time in this program.

The Campus Ministers are located on the ground level of Z. Smith Reynolds Library in Room 104. They can be reached by calling the Interdenominational Center (see page 6 - Campus Ministry). The ministers are:

Rev. Richard McBride . . . . . Baptist and BSU
Rev. Bill Kercheval . . . . . Presbyterian
Rev. Jake Viverette . . . . . Episcopalian
Rev. Mark Rose . . . . . Methodist

CONVOCATIONS, CHAPEL AND LECTURE SERIES

At certain times during the year such as at the opening of school, Founders' Day and in the spring, convocations are held which all students are expected to attend. The President may call other University convocations at his discretion. The Thursday Chapel Series consists of worship services in Davis Chapel incorporating traditional and non-traditional approaches to the worship of God. The Tuesday Lecture Series consists of presentations by the President and members of the faculty on various topics. These are held in DeTamble Auditorium. The Tuesday and Thursday programs are at 11:00 a.m. Students are urged to take advantage of these opportunities.

Students may also choose to affiliate with Circle K, Young Democrats, Young Republicans, International Club, Baptist Student Union, and the Afro-American Society.

Navy ROC Program

The United States Navy offers a Reserve Officer Candidate (ROC) Program whereby a Wake Forest student may complete his military requirements for commission as Ensign in the United States Navy Reserve by attending weekly drills at the Winston-Salem Naval Reserve Training Center, 930 Brookstown Avenue, and by attending the ROC schools during the summer following his sophomore and junior years. A commission is granted on graduation from Wake Forest University. Further information is available through the Commanding Officer of the Training Center or Dr. Carlton Mitchell of the Wake Forest faculty.

The ROTC Program

A senior unit of the United States Army Reserve Officers Training Corps was established at Wake Forest University in 1951. The general objective of the program is to produce officers who possess the leadership and scholastic attributes to make progressive and continual development as Reserve Officers in the Army of the United States.

The ROTC program is divided into a basic course (freshmen and sophomores) and an advanced course (juniors and seniors). Uniforms, military textbooks and equipment are provided students by the University States Government. Students selected for the advanced course receive $50.00 per month, or about $1,200.00 for the entire course. Several scholarships available to advanced students include tuition, books, and laboratory fees as well as $50.00 per month subsistence allotment.

A student enrolled in ROTC who meets prescribed requirements may receive deferment from selective service. After successful completion of the ROTC program and receipt of a baccalaureate degree, students are commissioned second lieutenants in the U. S. Army Reserve. If selected as a Distinguished Military Graduate, a student may be appointed a second lieutenant in the Regular Army.

Information concerning student deferments will be provided at registration, and this is the appropriate time for a student to apply for deferment if he wishes. Information concerning other ways of meeting the Selective Service obligations may be obtained from the office of the Student Government, the Chaplain or the Dean of Men.

INDIVIDUAL SPORTS

The University provides extensive athletic and recreational facilities and a faculty of trained supervisors to direct activities in various fields. Space and equipment are readily available to all students for recreational purposes.

For use within the program, the University maintains athletic fields, tennis courts and a recreation building which includes a swimming pool, handball and squash courts, rhythm studio, recreational area, corrective rooms, a gymnastics and wrestling room, and a women's gym, a varsity basketball gym and two men's intramural gyms.

Two semesters of physical education are basic course requirements for graduation. A wide variety of courses are offered to fill these requirements.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

The Department of Physical Education provides a varied intramural sports program that appeals to the interest of several hundred Wake Forest students every year.

Intramural sports include touch football, basketball, wrestling, golf, and tennis (both fall and spring), volleyball, handball, table tennis, badminton, horseshoes and softball for the men under the direction of Mr. John Clougherty. A similar program is available for women through the sponsorship of the Woman's Recreation Association. Individual awards and trophies are based on points which coeds may accumulate by participating in various activities and tournaments.

Competition in team sports is on the basis of fraternity or society and house teams. Any individual or group of individuals may organize teams and enter competition in any sport. Individual sports are run on a single-elimination basis, and everyone is eligible to enter. Trophies are awarded to individual and team winners in every sport.

RECREATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

A Physical Education Majors' Club is composed of all women who are majoring in physical education and those who are interested in it as a profession. The honorary men's fraternity in the field of physical education is Phi Epsilon Kappa.

Maritimer Club

A club to promote interest in water ballet, synchronized swimming and aquatic arts. Any Wake Forest coed may join. The club presents one water show each year and meets each Thursday night at 6:15 in the pool area. Mr. Leo Ellison, assistant physical education professor and coach of swimming, is the sponsor.

Orchesis Club

(Modern dance) Any Wake Forest coed may join this club, which presents two dance concerts a year. Meeting weekly for practice, the group promotes an interest in modern dance as an art. The sponsor is Mrs. Stacy Williams.

Recently several women's competitive teams have been organized for field hockey, tennis and golf. A friendly rivalry has developed between the coeds and the Salem and Winston-Salem State girls.

A gymnastics club operates under the auspices of the Department of Physical Education.

INTERCOLLEGIATE SPORTS

In intercollegiate sports the University is a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference, one of the finest athletic circuits in the nation. Wake Forest teams are better known to the spectators as the Demon Deacons.

The year-round varsity sports schedule includes football, basketball, baseball, track, swimming, cross country, tennis and golf. Freshman teams have a full schedule in all the intercollegiate sports. A rifle team was formed last year.

Other schools that are members of the ACC are Duke, the University of North Carolina, N.C. State, Clemson, and the Universities of Virginia and Maryland.

Home football games are played at the University's Groves Stadium near the campus. Home baseball games are played at Ernie Shore field and basketball games are played in the Winston-Salem Memorial Coliseum near the campus. Tennis, track and swimming facilities are located on campus.

OH, HERE'S TO WAKE FOREST

(The Fight Song)

Oh, here's to Wake Forest, a glass of the finest
Red, ruddy Rhenish filled up to the brim!
Her sons they are many, unrivaled by any;
With hearts o'erflowing we will sing her hymn.

(Chorus)

Rah, Rah, Wake Forest, Rah!
Old Alma Mater's sons we are:
We'll herald her story and die for her glory,
Old Gold and Black is ever waving high.

As frosh we adore her; as sophs we explore her,
And carve our names upon her ancient walls;
As juniors patrol her; as seniors extol her,
And weep to leave fore'er her sacred halls.

Though fortune forsake us and fate o'ertake us,
We'll ne'er forget our dear old college days,
And o'er memory's treasure we'll drink without measure,
And sing fore'er our Alma Mater's praise.

rules and regulations

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITY

Wake Forest University endorses as a basic principle of University life the concept of responsible student freedom which carries with it the recognition by each student of the rights and obligations of other members of the University community. The University encourages students to conduct themselves as mature men and women and invites them to participate in the formulation of rules and to assume major responsibility in student judicial decisions. At the same time all participants in University life must remember that, by the Charter of the University, the Board of Trustees is ultimately responsible for the school and for its operation.

Wake Forest University also expects its students to abide by local, state and federal laws as well as the generally accepted moral standards of our society. Although the University's role is not to duplicate civil law enforcement or judicial action, it may exercise authority for reasons indigenous to its functioning as an educational institution.

Because it recognizes that students more readily achieve maturity when they are permitted to assume responsibility for their decisions, the University does not adopt an extremely protective attitude toward students of the kind that would imply a parent-child relationship. Within the academic community, certain regulations are necessary for the orderly operation of the University and for the well-being of its members. Furthermore, Wake Forest, in keeping with its historic concern for students individually and corporately, has a legitimate interest in their welfare in and out of class, on and off campus. Especially is the University concerned with those student actions that are inconsistent with their obligations as members of an educational community. When in the opinion of the University, the conduct of a student at any place is reprehensible or detrimental to the best interests of that student, his fellow students, or the University, appropriate disciplinary action may be taken.

Thus the University is concerned with the conduct of students beyond the geographic bounds of the campus. For many reasons, however, including the obvious impossibility of controlling the off-campus behavior of students, it does not assume supervisory responsibility in their off-campus activities. Nor does the University seek or support special treatment for those of its students who may be apprehended for violation of law. It does regulate off-campus events of University-approved student organizations and insists that at these events and elsewhere, reason and responsibility characterize student conduct. More important, it encourages in students a sense of propriety and an ideal of personal dignity that would guide them well in their choice of associates and in their general behavior.

The philosophy of Wake Forest concerning student freedom is summed up in the following statement:

Wake Forest believes in individual freedom, not as a right but as a responsibility . . . freedom to be and, more important, to become. Attendance at Wake Forest is a privilege, not a right. The University's traditions and principles, accepted by each student in his act of voluntary registration, evolve from the core of this concept of freedom and responsibility that are indivisible. Therefore, it is presumed that the student who elects to come to Wake Forest does so with the intent of being in fact and spirit a copperating member of this community.

Although great responsibility is thus placed upon the student to govern his own conduct, the Board of Trustees has specifically charged the faculty of Wake Forest College with responsibility for prescribing requirements for the orderly behavior and government of all undergraduate students. In the discharge of this responsibility, the faculty, by itself or with the participation of Student Government, establishes from time to time specific conduct regulations and provides for their enforcement. The following specific regulations are now in force.

PERSONAL CONDUCT

Any activity which destroys or defaces University grounds is prohibited. This includes walking or engaging in sports on the grass of the main plaza.

Gambling is prohibited.

Indecent exposure and public use of vulgar and abusive language are prohibited.

Students are subject to all state and local regulations concerning the use of alcoholic beverages.* Public consumption or display of alcoholic liquors, wines, or beers in dormitories or elsewhere on campus is prohibited. Intoxication in dormitories or elsewhere on campus is prohibited. Furthermore, misbehavior or any conduct violation committed by a student under the influence of alcohol will be dealt with more severely.

Wake Forest students are expected to recognize that marijuana, LSD, and other psychedelic drugs are illegal. The use of barbiturates and stimulant drugs is restricted by law. All of these drugs can have profoundly serious effects. That these effects are not always immediately apparent can make them the more dangerous. If there is evidence of developing drug dependency, a student may be given a medical release from the University.

Possession of these drugs is against the law. Students found to be involved either in their possession, use, distribution, or transportation, on or off campus, must expect to be subject to disciplinary action which may include dismissal from the University. Parents of students will be notified. Disorderly conduct resulting from drug use will be grounds for such penalty as the University's judicial bodies may determine.

The University's physicians, counselors, and chaplains are available to students who wish to discuss confidentially matters concerning drug use, subject to the legal limitations on confidential communication.

Hazing, in any form, is prohibited, as is physical abuse of any person on University owned or controlled property.

Unauthorized entry into or occupation of the University facilities which are locked, closed to student activities, or otherwise restricted as to use, is prohibited.

Intentional disruption or obstruction of teaching, research, administration, disciplinary procedures, or other University activities, or of any authorized activities on University property, or any violation of law in a way that affects the University's pursuit of its proper educational purposes is prohibited.

Failure to comply with directions of University officials acting in the performance of their duties, including failure to give identity, is prohibited.

ORGANIZATIONAL BEHAVIOR

Organization officials should insure that reason and responsibility characterize functions of their respective groups. Organizations are subject to the same conduct regulations as are individuals, and judicial action may be taken against an organization which permits its members to violate the Conduct Code at a group sponsored function. Such action does not preclude disciplinary action against the individuals involved.

IDENTIFICATION CARDS

At the September registration, all new students are photographed for identification cards. These are permanent and are used for a student's entire stay at Wake Forest.

Students are required to carry these cards and to exhibit them on proper request. They are used for admission to athletic contests and the Artists Series, as well as for other purposes of identification.

When a student withdraws or graduates from the University he must turn in his identification card to the Business Office. If a card is lost, a charge of $10.00 will be made for replacement.

ROOM CONTRACT

Violation of rules governing residence in University owned, operated or regulated property is prohibited. Special notice should be given to the following, which are at the present time part of the regulations of the Room Contract:

In North Carolina it is unlawful for a person under 18 years of age to purchase or have in his possession wine or beer. It is unlawful for any minor under 21 years of age to purchase or possess alcoholic beverages or for anyone to aid or abet the minor in purchasing alcoholic beverages.*

1. Students are not permitted in residence halls occupied by members of the opposite sex except in lounges.

Musical appliances, refrigerators (Student Government issued), and hair dryers are permitted in rooms; window fans and air-conditioning units may be installed with special permission of the Housing office. It it becomes apparent that any circuit is overloaded, appropriate measures will be taken to correct the overload. Electrical appliances not approved for room use may be used in the kitchens.
5. Water beds are not allowed. Furnishings are not to be used for other than the intended purpose and beds are not to be disassembled. University equipment, furniture or furnishings are not to be moved from the room in which they have been placed by the University.
6. Engaging in any sport in the courtyards of the residence halls is prohibited.
7. Occupants are expected to refrain at all times from making excessive noise. Students shall not in any way interfere with the comfort or rights of other students.
